Forming Food.

Unequalled Value of Paine's Celery Compound.

From birth till past the age of thirty here is growth; some of the bones do ot completely knit till thirty-five.

All this time in addition there is the steady waste of the tissues that musbe repaired. The demand upon the vitality and upon the powers of assimilation is thus enormous during these years. Without plenty of rich, nourand tardy. But when it courses through all the arteries in a full, vigorous stream, growth goes on steadily and

What countless numbers of frail youngsters physicians see whose pitiably thin wrists and bloodless faces cry out for better nourishment. All this loes not escape the vigilant insight of parents. In thousands of homes it is well known that the boys and girls are somehow badly nourished.

The weak stomach and organs of assimilation cannot extract the food for growing nerves and brain in sufficient quantities from the ordinary diet. A special nerve diet is what they need. Paine's celery compound is Professor Edward E. Phelps' great preparation for nourishing these little frames and naking them grow into strong, active men and women. Dr. Phelps, upon whom colleges conferred their highest honors for his valuable investigations in medicine, knew from ripe experience the exact needs of these little sufferers.

A chorus of gratitude has gone up all ver the country, from mothers of children once weakly and pale, without promise of ever growing into robust men and women, who have outgrown weakness and a lack of vitality by the use of Paine's celery compound, taken with the regularity that physicians adhere to when prescribing this wonderful erve and blood restorative.

It is valuable in all wasting diseases, cleansing the blood of rheumatism, euralgia, scrofula, and supplying new and healthy vital fluid-its value can As the great modern nerve and brain strengthener and restorer Paine's celery compound is pronounced invaluable by all progressive physicians. Give the hospital authorities are of this grand invigorator a fair trial, and opinion that she will not recover. be convinced in the Hospital Now-Recovery Doubtful-Mrs. Crampton's Presence of Mind—Time-ly Help at a Critical Moment.

Yesterday afternoon at about 3:30 o'clock while Mrs. Crampton, wife of ex-Alderman Crampton, was in the nur sery with her children at No. 537 Orange street, near Pearl street, she heard screams of terror issuing from down stairs in the laundry. Rushing to the anisters and looking down she saw Annie Carholme, the laundress, wrapped in flames. Mrs. Crampton rushed down, and with great presence of mind she threw over the prostrate girl a large ul ster of her husband which hung on a rack near by. This not proving wholly effective she then threw over the suffering girl several rugs, which smothred the flames.

But in the brief space of time in which this had happened nearly every shred of the girl's clothing was burned off. The flames had communicated to the sofa, which was soon in a blaze and the floor also caught fire.

At this critical juncture knocks wer heard at the door and two men from Bright's crockery store stood on the steps bringing prizes to be distributed at a whist party which was to have been held by Mr. and Mrs. Crampton ishing blood, growth must be defective this evening. Mrs. Crampton rushed to the door, and the men by prompt work obtained water from the different faucets in the house and extinguished the

Mrs. Crampton immediately telephoned to the hospital from the residence next door, of President Dann of the New Haven Chair company, and an ambulance was sent in which the girl was carried to the hospital. Mr. Crampton, who had been in New York all day with his little boy, returned about 5:30, and in the early evening visited the hospital, where he found Miss Annie is a precarious condition. Her recovery is onsidered very doubtful. She was ter ribly burned. It is supposed that the girl's clothing caught fire from the stove in the kitchen when she turned from the stove with a flatiron. The girl was under the influence of oplates all night. She has been a domestiin Mr. Crampton's family during the past year, and has a brother and sister in this city. She is a Swede girl, and about twenty-five years of age. The damage to the house and goods is about

The victim of the accident was at one time employed at the hospital and worked in the very ward in which she a helpless patient. Her sister in this city is Mrs. Stephen Laden of 300 Wallace street, who was notified by the hospital authorities of the ac-cident and visited her unfortunate sister. During all the time, the girl, though suffering excruciating agony, retained consciousness.

At a late hour last night the girl was reported as being still alive, but
